Elaine Beatriz O. Borja   October 14, 2019

   AC 192   ProgCon

First Week of Learning: October 8 & 11, 2019

The class started with us making our Trello and GitHub accounts and also the introduction of it to us. The class get excited in exploring the Trello and for me it is exciting by that time as we are able to interact openly in the said medium. Also, I find it easy to use because it has an app that will give efficiency as we will be able to have an easy track to the things that we have to do and we have our own space wherein it is compiled for the prof to see our works and for us to see what we have/ will do. Also, the first meeting is the introduction of Kahoot wherein it gave excitement to us up until the next meeting. It drives us to get into the higher list that eventually makes a cheerful environment, it makes us active. However, I am bothered as it is graded; both in class participation and quizzes in which the idea of basing the class participation in the rankings of Kahoot is challenging while in quizzes is playing Kahoot before discussion is fine but I hope that there will be course syllabus presented that will be followed for us to have option of reading/ studying in advance.

In conclusion, the mediums used are new for me but is exciting and challenging at the same time. I am looking forward to productive discussions and activities.